

Today was Mrs. Bradley's last day before she starts her maternity leave. Her baby is due mid-December and we will keep you updated with any news.

Many of you know Mr. Feltham who will be teaching Year 2 from next week in Mrs. Bradley's absence.

Mrs. Coyle will be joining us on Tuesday to start teaching in Year 3 during Mrs Keyes absence.

School Council

Miss Shepherd and I looked through all of the applications for the School Council at the start of this week. Next week, class teachers will be asking the selected children to present their application to their peers. The class will then complete a voting slip which will be folded and placed in a container.

Myself and Miss Shepherd will then count the votes and announce the chosen children at the end of the week.

Diabetes Awareness Month

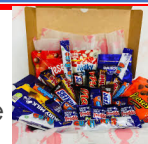

November is National Diabetes Awareness Month. In assembly on Wednesday, we shared a video and talked about Diabetes, how Diabetes is managed and also the impact Diabetes can have on our bodies.

In April we will be taking part in a fundraising event – Dance for Diabetes. More information will follow in the New Year.

Non-uniform Day

On Monday, we are inviting children to come to school in non-uniform in exchange for some Christmas chocolate. All of the chocolate will be used to create hampers which will be raffled off to raise money for outdoor equipment.

Christmas Performance Tickets

The forms have gone out on ParentMail inviting you to request tickets for your child's Christmas Performance. Ticket availability is dependent on your child's year group and location. For all ticket enquiries, please contact the main office.

Once you have sent in the money for the tickets, your child will be given the tickets to bring home.
